

10 WAYS FOR STUDENTS TO JOIN ARTEMIS

NASA is committed to landing the first woman and next man on the Moon by 2024. NASA STEM Engagement creates unique opportunities for students in exploration and discovery through the Artemis program.

Share Artemis with your students

Form Your Artemis Team

Middle, high school, undergraduate and graduate students compete in Artemis Student Challenges while building foundational knowledge on topics and technologies critical to the success of Artemis.

stem.nasa.gov/artemis

Explore Artemis Resources

Artemis topics aligned with national STEM education standards, NASA educator guides use space exploration as a theme for commonly taught STEM subjects.

nasa.gov/stem/foreducators/k-12/index.html

Code Artemis

Middle and high school students work with NASA's Space Communications and Navigation team to develop an app that visualizes the South Pole region of the Moon. nasa.gov/stem/nextgenstem/moon_to_mars/app_challenge.html

Meet the Artemis Team

Hear from NASA technical experts working on Artemis. Related activities and Spanish-language sessions are available.

NASA STEM Stars on YouTube

Plan Your Artemis Expedition

AstroCamp trains youth-serving organizations to bring Artemis exploration activities to students in grades 2-12 during the summer.

nasa.gov/centers/stennis/education/students/astrocamp.html

Make Artemis

Explore hands-on activities and DIY projects.

stem.nasa.gov

Host Artemis

AstroCamp trains Youth-serving Organizations to bring hands-on Artemis exploration activities to 2nd -12th graders in their own communities during the summer. nasa.gov/centers/stennis/education/students/astrocamp.html

Follow Artemis

Learn more about Artemis student opportunities.

 @NASASTEM

 NASA STEM

Support Artemis

Become an Artemis expert with the latest graphics and shareable content for your classroom.

nasa.gov/joinartemis

Teach Artemis

Join NASA Education Specialists in live online sessions to engage and inspire the Artemis Generation. Earn digital badges through participation in various events.

www.nasa.gov/stem/murep/projects/epdc.html

